“ I love you and miss you so much. I don't know how to live my life without you. Each day gets harder. You were a wonderful husband and father and my one and only. I always knew you were the one from the day I met you. And I know you'll be watching over us. And like the song, I've loved for a thousand years and I will love you for a thousand more. God, I love you so much. I know you will be waiting for me when the time comes. Until then I will try to make you proud and let everyone know what a great person you were. And you were the best dad for our girls. We miss you so much. We love you with all our hearts and soul. Your loving wife for eternity Laura.

“ This is from John's daughter Samantha.

I haven't known how to put all this into words, but I think it's time to make this post.

On Sunday, April 22, my wonderful father passed away.

I don't know how to express how hurt I am. It feels like a part of me has been torn away. I couldn't have asked for a more kind, supportive father who was always here when I needed him. You were there to hold my hand when I was little, and to have your hand on my shoulder throughout my time in high school and college. No matter what my dreams were, you were there to encourage me and eager to see what I'd achieve. Even when things got hard, you never forgot how to smile, and made sure we didn't either. You were always there to help everyone around you and make everyone's life brighter just by being in their life.

I miss you every second. I love you so much and I'll continue to make you proud.

“ Samantha, you are your father. You can't see it maybe, but hopefully you will some day, and smile because he will be smiling right back at you.

“ I am a co-worker of John's and we had many years of project experience together when we were in the district. I am always amazed at his openness and friendly attitude. He always took the time to listen to different ideas and to think about ways to make ideas work. And if things could not work, he took the time to explain why it wouldn't work. He was a great co-worker, but I always considered John a friend at work and I am so very sorry to hear he will no longer be there. He was someone I greatly enjoyed running into him and did so not so long ago at the corporate office in Parsippany. I was blessed to see him one last time, and again he took time to shake my hand, share a smile, and chat for a bit. He will be greatly missed by all.

“ Well respected man in the UPS PE department. Although John was my first boss as I transitioned from driver to Porter, I very much respected his personality & his calmness in being able to train myself to become what I am today. John was a peaceful man and his knowledge was well respected within our department. He will be missed by many. My deepest condolences. Bob Girone Lakewood Porter. Rest in peace John
