“ I met Joe, Eileen, the girls and Joey in the mid 70's while I was working at Madison Indoor. For some reason, and fortunately for me, they adopted me as one of their own, and I stayed with them many a weekend during that time. I'll always remember, the breakfasts Eileen would cook up, and the cups of tea with milk and sugar. And, I'll always remember the the girls waking me up by firing missiles at me on the couch from their Christmas tree train set. Those were good times. But, most importantly, I'll always be grateful to Joe for guiding me through school and life, for it was he who convinced me to pursue an engineering career. I can still hear him saying to me, "Don't limit yourself." Rest in Peace Joe, and thanks for being my friend.

“ I think that I met Joe in the summer of 1983, while dating his niece - now my wife of 33 years. He was very kind to me that first day at a family party. After that, the gloves came off and I got the real Joe, and I was ok with that, too.

He had an interesting way about him - very set in his ways and I can still easily relate to that. He stood his ground and may have seemed a little rough around the edges, but to see him light up at the sight of his family was to see the real Joe. His love for them has been a great guide to me in my own life.

I am so sorry that I didn't get to spend more time with him. He seemed to be softening in his later years, having lived through so much loss of his own. Also a good guide for me in my own life.

I look forward to seeing him again. Until then, I will look for his strength, his sense of humor, his smile and the twinkle in his eyes at seeing his family in his own children and grandchildren, and his nieces and nephews and their children. I won't have to look very hard.

“ I met Joe at work and we immediately hit it off. Joe would always look for an excuse to break something so I can go to his house and fix it. We spent more time drinking Martinis than fix the stuff he broke (and he knew very well how to fix it). Joe taught me a lot - how to host someone, how to think logically and above all, how to enjoy life and live it to the fullest. He was there for me during happy times. He was there for me during my difficult times. He suffered when I suffered, and I suffered when he suffered. He treated me like family, and I will never forget that. I will cherish all the memories we made together - going to New York for Johnnie Walker tasting events, going to The Oranges to show me a real St. Patrick;s day (which is my favorite holiday to this date), running the trains using software, woodworking, changing a tire, going to the gun club, how to be a great dad and a husband, and last but not least, how to make perfect martinis. I will always cherish the memories I made with you and continue to live life the way you taught me. Until we meet again, Rest In Peace my dearest friend!

“ Uncle Joe will always have a special place in my heart. As a child, I was always so excited to go to Uncle Joe & Aunt Eileen's to play Asteroids. I will always remember him as a presence that lit up a room; always a quick wit with a smile. As I grew up, he was a a feature of every important milestone in my life, as much a part of my family as any blood relative. He was supportive, encouraging, and will be sorely missed. My heart goes out to the Fallon family.

“ RIP JOE! 24 years I've none Joe and we been through alot together! He put me on my first flight ever. we flew to Atlanta together. Drove all the way back to nj. I put his ac in his house. I remember building his deck then taking it back apart for the trains! Going into Brooklyn and buying more trains. Going on the web different sites Just to add more to the collection. Just wish I was able to do one last run with them with him. We talked all the time about that. Did ower first ebay selling. I remember getting big red. Always going to the 4 seasons to eat for his birthday. Pushing him to get his eye surgery so he can see lol. We did alot of things together. To much to put on this Page but will be missed. It will feel different now that he's gone when I go to ny to visit.

RIP!

“ Uncle Joe a great great friend and mentor to me throughout my life. Incredibly welcoming and always quick with a joke or a story. Uncle Joe also singlehandedly dragged me through algebra with his tutoring- he was an incredibly patient and good teacher.

He meant so incredibly much to me and my family- he truly was family to us.

RIP Uncle Joe

“ Dear Cousin Eileen & Family,
Some years ago you related of the first time you met Joe at a wedding. Your comment was,
" that's the man I'll marry."

Now over a half century later, everyone is reading a most loving tribute.

Our hearts and prayers are with you. God Bless, Joe.

Your Ohio cousins,
Maureen and Helen
