“ When my parents passed away, Tita Angie becomes my second mother. We always see each other in every occasion whether it's Holidays or birthdays because she's my niece and my nephew's grandmother. She will always asked me in her sweet voice, how are you, Day? The caring and always smiling Tita Angie will be missed.

“ The whole BLD Community especially the Solo Parents Ministry is so sad with the passing of our Tita Angie. She is a person who always have a happy smile and make you feel a very important person. She was in my care circle who gave us reflections that touched my heart. As a new angel in heaven, may she enjoy her new home in heaven. We love you Tita Angie.

“ I am so sorry to hear this. Angelita was a woman of such energy and vibrancy, it is difficult to imagine her not being here, cheering everyone on. I particularly remember her kindness and support for me when I was going through a difficult time in my professional life. It meant the world to me - more than words can say. I am sure Angelita performed this same kindness many, many times over to others. Her time here on this earth was well spent! Rest in peace, dear friend!

“ Angelita was an amazing, inspiring, woman who transformed the lives of the women that she met. I have been trying to find the words to describe her, trying to think of what to say that would do her justice- angel on earth, change agent, role model, teacher, friend. When I think of all of the women that I wouldn't know today, if I had never met Angelita, it is overwhelming. When I realize that if it wasn't for Angelita inviting me to be a part of her WIC peer counselor training we wouldn't have had a bridge at SIUH, between hospital and community. We wouldn't have been able to have an amazing breastfeeding Facebook group that is approaching 1000 strong! But that is just what she did, not who she was. Did you ever meet someone who made you feel like you were the most important person in the world? That was Angelita. She treated everyone that way. She was so giving, loving and supportive. And she was this tiny woman, smaller than me, even! RIP Angelita. I treasure your legacy and hope to continue to spread your message to women- Breastfeed! Just Breastfeed!

“ Ange was a mentor who became a wonderful friend. Angelita was the "founder" of the WIC Program at Staten Island Universit Hospital. She grew the program and passed the reins to me in 1996. She stepped "down" and became the Breastfeeding Coordinator. She went on to become IBCLC so that she had the best knowledge to give to her clients. Ange gave of herself in all aspects. She believed in the best in all people and was upbeat, cheerful, and encouraging to all. She treated everybody with respect and supported her clients, staff and friends in their endeavors. The best part of Ange is she did not know how great she was she was who she was 🍷 She will be sorely missed.

“ Tita Lita exuded love and warmth. She rarely raised her voice, and was always heard. She loved her children so much and was dedicated to their happiness. She is the strength, the passion, and heart to which we all aspire. God bless and I am sure you will continue, as my Dad does, protecting your loved ones even in the after-life.
