

Anthony Aversano

May 13, 1973 - July 6, 2024

Anthony Aversano, 51, passed away on July 6, 2024, in Port Monmouth, New Jersey. Born on May 13, 1973, in Brooklyn, New York, Anthony was a dedicated and compassionate individual known for his sense of humor and his deep love for his family and friends.

Anthony graduated from Farrell High School in Staten Island and later earned a BS in Business from Villanova University. He built a successful career working for the New York Stock Exchange, Computershare and later as a project manager at Fidelity. His professional life was marked by the same dedication he showed in his personal endeavors.

A sports enthusiast, Anthony was deeply involved in athletics, not just as a spectator but as an active participant. He loved playing basketball, was an avid football fan, and enjoyed coaching his son's basketball and baseball teams. His passion for sports was matched by his love for cooking, playing poker, and enjoying long walks, often accompanied by his cherished dogs, Apollo and Sasha.

Above all, Anthony was a devoted father to his son, Anthony Aversano. He had a profound love for being a father, and it shone through whenever he spoke about his son. His voice brimmed with pride as he recounted his son's achievements, always standing by him with unwavering support and encouragement in everything he pursued. Seeing his son thrive and flourish brought Anthony deep joy and a true sense of fulfillment.

Anthony was known for his kindness and willingness to help others in need. His comforting presence made him a source of solace for many who sought his guidance and support. He always went out of his way to lend a helping hand and his generosity touched the lives of those around him. Anthony will be greatly missed by all those who were lucky enough to have known him.

Anthony is survived by his beloved son Anthony Aversano, by his adoring parents Santo and Francis Aversano, by his loving partner of over three years Ximena Betancourt and her children Nicole and Jesus, and by his caring sister Gina Aversano

Anthony was predeceased by his beloved brother, James Aversano (2005).

“ I'm beyond saddened to learn of Anthony's passing. I had the pleasure of hanging out with Anthony numerous times at Villanova. He was funny, kind, a great conversationalist and all-around blast to share time with. I can still visualize Anthony, Bill Dealy (who introduced us) and I sitting at a booth talking for hours about sports, family, music, and comedy shows. He had a certain way of sitting sideways with one knee up and a smile on his face. It's a look I won't forget. One time Anthony, Bill and I discussed making a comedy series called bar talk. Of course we didn't write anything down, but there was a lot of fun going through stories we heard while at Villanova that could have been part of it. We also had more than a few late night visits to Pat's Steaks and the A Plus where I may have placed a hot dog on top of his car and proceeded to eat it. Probably the only time, I saw Anthony give me a look of disgust. Otherwise, he was the type of person who would always give you support and listen to you. I got to see him a few times right after college, but only a couple of times since. I regret that. He was a great person and I will miss him. I hope his family is doing as well as possible. Rest in peace Anthony.
