“ Tony was one of my oldest cousins and he was responsible for getting me into music. He was a great keyboard player and I used to sit and watch him play for hours. I was fortunate enough that he sold me his Farfisa organ (one of the first ever made!) as well as several amps. Because of him, I was able to realize my dream and find happiness in playing and writing music. Anytime he complimented me on my playing or on a song I wrote, it meant a lot to me. I spent countless days with him and Grace on Bay 32nd St in Brooklyn. They had the coolest apartment (with the coolest salt water fish) and Becky and Brandy!! (2 adorable Yorkshire Terriers). Obviously, when Anthony and Kimmy were born, it was spending even more time at their apartment. I will always remember his dry sense of humor, his love for his parents and his outstanding talent. I hope that he is at peace spending time with his Mom and Dad who left him way too young. I love you Tony, you made the biggest impact on my life.
