“ I'm sorry to hear about Charles passing, he was a very nice man and was so helpful to me as I was marketing my new business many years ago. His website was phenomenal and he put so much work and passion into it. RIP Charles, sad to hear of this news. My deepest condolences to his family and friends.

“ I I am deeply saddened to hear about the passing of Charles Daidone. Although I knew him only for a short time through work, as he was my client, he left a lasting impression on me as a truly kind-hearted person.

I still remember our conversation about the biography he was writing. I had told him that I would love to read it once it was completed. It pains me to know that I may never get that chance.

This news has been very difficult to accept. I sincerely pray that God grants peace to his soul. He will be remembered with respect and warmth.
