“ I met Dan when he was 14 and I was 15, when I was introduced to the family of the man I would marry a few yrs later, his loving brother, Doug. His gentleness, generosity, kindness, intelligence, humor and strong faith made Danny a guy people loved to be around. We understood each other. He loved visiting Doug and I and the kids. He said this is what he wanted...a wife and children. God blessed him with a beautiful family, his Patrice and their Megan, Jack, Daniel and Kaitlyn, and no matter what challenges life through at him, h e remained stoic in his unwavering faith. I know he spent time with my Dad, a WWII veteran, just before he was shipped off to Vietnam to fight. They spent several hours together, both of these amazing men had a strong belief in the Lord, and we don't know what they discussed but I know Dan felt ready to face, at that time, his greatest challenge. We who were blessed to really know him were given a gift.

My condolences to, what I consider, a extraordinary extended family, for acceptance, peace and comfort during this difficult time. Rest in peace, Danny, you are "home".

“ I remember Danny and Dougie trying to play tennis when they were visiting our house. It was an early childhood memory, but, for some reason, I never forgot it. I always remembered Danny as being very nice and kind and having that unique Corley humor.
