“ Grandma, I found myself laying on my couch yesterday telling a friend that after the episode of our show, that I needed to call you, and I quickly reminded myself that I cannot do that, anymore. I don't think I'll ever accept the fact that you're gone. Love and miss you more than ever. You're still my favorite lady all my love, your favorite granddaughter ;)

I don't think I will ever be okay with the fact that you are no longer here with me. I love and miss you more than ever. You are still, and always will be my favorite lady. “ Dear Doris, Certainly a statement that should be in a birthday or Christmas card not a memorial in a guest book. We've laughed and cried for many years together. I always looked forward to our calls or cards with pictures of your grandchildren or "change of address" I will miss you my friend. Your children and grandchildren have loving memories of their gutzy mama/grandma but I hold memories of a woman who wouldn't allow life's circumstances prevent her from living or loving the people she held so dear. I looked forward to that road trip to Virginia and can only laugh at the memories we would have carved into our book of life. I just came across a home movie that showed a funny moment you and Tommy had playing twister along with your girls playing with my boys. I will send it on to the girls and hope they can laugh watching their parents enjoy a precious moment from their youth. Rest in peace my friend, till we all meet again. Kathy (Doumar) Barrett

“ Dear Aunt Doris. You were loved so very much in this life but I know you were welcomed with open arms in heaven. I will remember you for the rest of my life and cherish the conversations that only you and I know about. You were a voice of calm to me on many days and I am grateful you were there. I want you to rest easy knowing you left a positive impression on me that will never be erased. Love Jimmy

“ My dearest and oldest friend, life will never feel nor be the same without you. A piece of me has gone with you. We've known each other for over half a century - way too short a time. We were young together and we grew old together, and it has been a hell-of-a trip. My memory of your tough-mindedness will continue to give me strength. We've traveled through laughter and pain together as we watched your children grow into the wonderful women they are today. I've watched you smile with pride as each grandchild made his or her entrance into the world. I always enjoyed hearing about your girls' exploits and the paths their lives were taking. Doreen, Kim, Kathleen, and Dawn, I hope each of you can get some measure of strength and relief from your grief by thinking about how much your mother truly loved each one of you, something she expressed to me in every conversation we had for more years than I can remember. This memory of her love is really what counts the most because it stays with us always. As feisty as Mom was, she was even more caring and loving and fiercely loyal to her family and friends. What more can anyone ask of another. As time eases your loss, I hope the energy of her love for you fills you with a sense of peace. You'll always be with Doris in my heart. Love, Bob Aievoli
