“ Joe, I will never forget the friendship and kindness you, Darla and your kids extended to me and my family. Often times, the only friendly faces in the parking lot. I will never forget your funny anecdotes about camping and our shared love for Lake George! I am thankful your kindness and friendship. I am sure that God welcomed you with open arms saying, " Well done good and faithful friend." As the Italians say, when someone you love passes away, you never forget them. You carry them in your heart always. I am sure you will be carried in the hearts of your beautiful wife Darla, and your beautiful and friendly children.

“ I worked with Joe at St. Clare's hospital and will always remember him with such affection. He was a truly great medic--skillful and kind, and also really fun to work with and be around for twelve hours. Joe was such a part of the St. Clare's world, I'll miss him as will so many others. All his family can be very proud of the man that Joe was--he made a difference in this world. My thoughts are with his wife and children who he loved so much.
