“ We met in 2007 when Peter Abatangelo moved into Madison Crossing.

Peter was a god man, a good neighbor, and a friend. We are sorry that we didn't get together too often, especially these last couple of years, and regret not getting around the table for pasta and Barolo.

Peter was well educated, had an incredible command of the English language, with a cute Italian accent. He was a man of very strong convictions who was not afraid to speak his mind. He was an active neighbor, and together we sat on the finance committee collaborating on several projects. Peter was always ready to get involved and help his community at any time.

He was a family man who deeply cared about his wife. Clara, we wish you strength and health and want you to know we are here to help whenever it may be needed.

May G-d bless your entire family.
