“ Dear Mom, It is now 2011! There are many happy memories from 2010 that are good but unfortunately the bad ones seem to overshadow them. Hopefully with the passing of time that will change and the pain will ease. I hope you are happy in heaven with Jesus and all of your loved ones. See ya later, Love Diane

“ To my beautiful mother Theresa, I have been the luckiest person in the world to have you as a mom. Although we had our moments, our love for one another greatly surpassed them. It was the hardest thing to do in my life making the choice to let you go but I know deep in my heart it was the right thing to do. You were with me for my first breath of life and I was with you for your last. Talking to you and holding your hand as you peacefully passed from here to see Jesus is something I can never forget. I know you are joyful in heaven with loved ones you have longed to see. Please do not worry about the ones you left behind. We will survive by keeping your memory alive because that is what you would want. I do not believe in saying goodbye so for now I tell you my dear mommy "See you later" Your daughter Diane
